Property Finder

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm thrilled to submit my application to Property Finder for the Frontend Developer opportunity. I've been creating dynamic, user-focused applications for more than two years, and I'm excited to help you shape the MENA real estate market's future.

I used React and TypeScript to create and improve responsive web apps at The Innovative Apps, guaranteeing device accessibility and performance. I am knowledgeable about contemporary CSS architecture patterns like BEM, SCSS, and JavaScript (ES6+), which complement Property Finder's focus on scalable, maintainable code. My commitment to Test-Driven Development (TDD) and my background in single-page application development guarantee that my work is of the highest caliber.

My work has always been based on collaboration. I approach problem-solving proactively, whether I'm working with Agile teams to achieve deadlines or collaborating with designers to create straightforward user experiences. Having developed fluid data-driven applications using Firebase and RESTful APIs, I also possess a solid grasp of backend ideas.

Property Finder's creative use of technology to transform the real estate market really appeals to me. I'm excited about the chance to collaborate with an elite group in such a vibrant setting. I'm sure that my abilities, enthusiasm for front-end development, and dedication to education would make me an invaluable member of your team.

I'm excited about the prospect of supporting Property Finder's mission and would appreciate the opportunity to talk about how my background and skills meet your requirements. I appreciate you taking a look at my application.

Sincerely,

Janice Wambui Ngugi
