

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Software Developer position at your company. I recently graduated with a Bachelor of Science and Technology in Applied Computer Technology from the United States International University—Africa. I am a very passionate and self-driven Software Engineer with work experience from two companies while I was still a student at University.

I am proficient in programming languages like Python, C#, HTML CSS, Java, JavaScript, and C. I am also really experienced in many development technologies and frameworks like Git, CI/CD, Docker, REST APIs, Django, REACT, and . NET. In my previous roles and my university studies, I got to work on a lot of projects and be part of teams which helped me improve my skills in team collaboration, communication, and problem-solving.

My commitment to delivering high-quality software and writing maintainable code together with the attitude of wanting to improve my skills has allowed me to grow in the industry and deliver good results. I am confident that my problem-solving skills will allow me to contribute effectively to your team. Thank you for considering my application and I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my background and skills align with the goals of your company.

Warm regards,
Janice Wambui Ngugi
